PROPER

Writing a review

Audiobooks are audio recordings of texts. Here are two comments on audiobooks.

I love listening to audiobooks. I share my enthusiasm with teachers, parents, classmates, and anyone else who will listen. Unlike paper books and e-books, audiobooks free up my hands and my eyes. I can still experience the joy of the written words while commuting, working out and doing chores.

I think listening to books is not really reading. And it is difficult to follow if you are distracted. Unlike physical books, you cannot simply scan the book and skip some contents that you are not interested in.

● Your turn

What are your opinions about audiobooks? Your point of view might help people to decide whether they should go for it or not.

You may use

Advantages

- can multitask
- can listen at night without any lights
- protect your eyes
- does not occupy any space in your room

Disadvantages

- weaken your reading competence
- depend on technology
- cannot highlight lines that you may like

Taking Action

Designing a talent show

A talent show provides an opportunity to show others our creativity and talent. Your school is going to hold a talent show. You are supposed to hold a show in your class first and choose someone to take part in the school talent show.

Step 1 Make a survey among your classmates to ask about their ideas of the activities. The following questions are useful to you.

Which of the shows (recitation,magic tricks...) do you like?

Do you like to...?

What do you think of...?

How to prepare for ...?

Step 2 Collect the results you got from the survey and choose 4 of the most popular shows.

Step 3 Decide on the order of events for the talent show and introduce your arrangements to the whole class.

Step 4 The whole class will vote for the most popular show.

Understanding Culture

Technology has changed the world of home entertainment

In the years gone by, people were pretty limited when it came to enjoy entertainment at home. Over recent years, technology has resulted in huge changes in the world of home entertainment.

Other than a few channels on TV and the radio, there was very little to do. However, when cable and satellite TV came along, this all changed, with many people enjoying access to a huge range of channels. In addition, with new games consoles, computer technology, and high-speed broadband, people enrich their entertainment life at home.

With the wide variety of music download sites and apps available, people download their own tunes and create their own playlists. What's more, you can benefit from a wide range of musical genres and you will find plenty that is perfectly suited to your taste.

Listening

PROPER

1 Listen and answer the following questions.

(1) What does Mike want?

(2) Where can a charging station probably be found?

2 Listen again and decide whether the following statements are true or false.

	True	False
(1) Mike's phone does not work.
(2) Mike can borrow a power bank with WeChat.
(3) It will cost 6 yuan if Mike borrows the power bank for 2 hours.
(4) It is for the first time that Mike has borrowed a power bank.

3 Listen for the third time and underline the expressions about borrowing and returning.

Mike: Li Mei, my phone battery is almost dead. Do you happen to carry a power bank with you?

Li Mei: No, Mike, but I saw a charging station with sharing ones on the first floor of the shopping mall.

Mike: Could you show me how to borrow one?

Li Mei: Sure. First of all, do you have Alipay in your phone?

Unit 2

Mike: Yes, I have been using it a lot.

Li Mei: Perfect. Scan the QR code on the charging station with Alipay. Then a power bank pops out. You can use it now.

Mike: What about the cost?

Li Mei: It costs 3 yuan per hour.

Mike: How do I return it?

Li Mei: You just put it back, follow instructions, and everything is done.

Mike: How convenient it is! I have seen such charging stations in many restaurants and shopping malls. There is no need to worry about the power supply now.

1 Listen and choose the best answer.

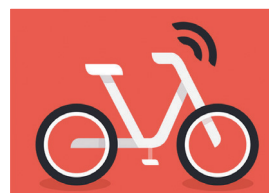

(1) Which platform is being talked about?

A.

B.

C.

(2) Which of the following statements describes ride-sharing correctly?

A. Ride-sharing is always safe.

B. You'd better share your trip information when sharing a ride.

C. Nothing can be done to protect your safety once you share a ride.

2 Listen again and complete the safety tips for sharing a ride.

Safety Tips for Sharing a Ride
The government should	demand the platforms to _____ their business regulations.
The platforms should	_____ the drivers' background checks.
	keep passengers' _____ to themselves.
	send _____ to passengers.
The passengers should	be _____.
	_____ emergency contacts.
	_____ their trip information.

Li Mei: Hi, Mike. I had my first sharing ride this morning. There was not much traffic. The driver was quite nice. What a pleasant experience!

Mike: It sounds great! Great attention has been given to the safety of ride-sharing platforms.

Li Mei: What measures must be taken to protect the passengers?

Mike: I think the government should require the platforms to improve business regulations (业务监管).

Li Mei: I agree. Stricter driver background checks need to be carried out.

Mike: Besides, passengers' personal information should only be available to the passengers themselves.

Li Mei: I have also noticed that passengers are given safety advice.

Mike: It does make trips safer for the passengers to add their emergency contacts and to share their trip information.

Li Mei: Safety always comes first. You can never be too careful.

Mike: You are right, especially when you have to share the ride with people you don't know well.

Reading

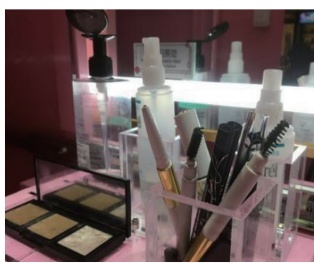

Would you like to share make-ups with strangers?

A new trend of “shared make-up rooms” has been springing up (兴起) in many Chinese cities since late 2018.

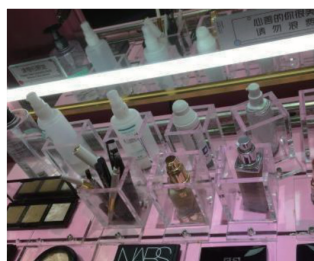

Ms Liu, a woman in her twenties from Shanghai

I think sharing make-up rooms is a very creative idea. The concept would attract people because it allows them to try products without being “forced” by salespersons at make-up counters to buy something that might not be right for them. But I may not use them often because I do not think they are very practical.

Ms Wang, a Wuhan-based user

I would use them often. I can help myself to a range of beauty products from high-end (高端的) western brands. The rooms also provide brushes and other disposable application tools. But it is not a minimum of cheap. It costs 58 yuan in one sitting, which is a good deal.

Ms Li, a user in eastern Shandong province

Make-ups are personal items. I cannot really accept sharing certain products with strangers. Lipstick, for example, lots of people will use—that is not very clean. It may carry viruses or skin diseases.

1 Read and tick the following statements that match the opinions of Ms Liu, Ms Wang or Ms Li.

Ms Liu

- ☐ The shared make-up room is like a novel.
- ☐ People can buy make-ups in the room.
- ☐ I like the concept but I may not use them often.
- ☐ People are often forced to buy products they do not need.

Ms Wang

- ☐ My skin is not good.
- ☐ I want to use high-end beauty products.
- ☐ It costs 58 yuan for using the room each time.
- ☐ All application tools can be used again and again.

Ms Li

- ☐ Lipsticks have many viruses.
- ☐ Some products are not clean to use.
- ☐ Make-ups should be used by oneself.
- ☐ It is safe to share products with strangers.

2 Discuss and write down your opinions on sharing make-up rooms with useful expressions in the passage.

B

PROPER

Share trust as well as space

If a stranger offered you money to keep a suitcase in your spare room, would you accept it? Or, if you had too many belongings, would you trust someone you met online to keep them safe?

Anthony Paine believed most of us would answer “yes” to these questions. So he started his own business, Stashbee. It allows people to rent out their space to those in need.

In sharing economy, people can also rent out things like their beds, bikes and even parking spaces. For example, Airbnb provides a platform for such short-term service.

The business becomes successful because more and more people have changed their minds about trusting strangers. It is also believed that there is a gap in the market for those who want to store things for very short periods of time. For example, if you have three hours to kill in a city before your train leaves, what do you do with your suitcase? CityStasher hopes you will choose to leave it at a local newsagent, which can be found through their website, rather than in the station’s more expensive luggage office.

Would you try it out? It is a question of trust.

Unit 2

1 Read and match the word with the meaning according to the passage.

A. suitcase

B. belongings

C. newsagent

D. luggage office

a. a place where bags can be left for a short time, especially at a railway station

b. a shop or a store that sells newspapers, magazines, sweets, etc.

c. things you own

d. a case with flat sides and a handle, used for carrying clothes, etc., when you are travelling

2 Read again and decide whether the following statements are true or false.

		True	False
(1)	Don't accept a stranger's offer of help when you have difficulty in handling your belongings.
(2)	Most people would allow a stranger to keep a suitcase in their spare room.
(3)	The customer can leave his / her luggage at a local newsagent rather than in a luggage office.
(4)	Stashbee is a platform for business consulting.
(5)	Trusting strangers is becoming more and more difficult under sharing economy.

Writing an essay

When we write down an opinion, some rules have to be followed.

Are active video games a good way to keep fit?

Nowadays, many teenagers have got video game consoles at home and they often like playing active video games.

First of all, I think that active video games are a good way to keep fit. These games are fun, interactive and convenient no matter where your friends are.

Second, you can play them whenever you want. Some people think that it is better to do exercises outside in the fresh air. And when it is raining or hot, the video games are a good choice.

To sum up, it is believed that video games are a fun and a social way to keep fit.

在描述事件、表达观点时，可借助一些表示顺序的副词进行衔接。

Making a presentation on products or services

In China, you can share almost everything with strangers from vehicles to daily necessities, from work spaces to recreation equipment.

Step 1 Interview three students and ask them what shared products or services they use and what they think of this lifestyle.

You may ask

Have you ever used any shared products?

What shared products do you use a lot?

Do you like this lifestyle?

What else do you think we can share?

Step 2 Complete the following table with main ideas.

Student's Name	Question 1	Question 2	Question 3	Question 4

Step 3 Summarise your classmates' answers with key words, pictures and video clips.

Step 4 Make slides and present it to the whole class within 5 minutes.

Understanding Culture

What is mine is yours, for a fee

Sharing economy refers to a phenomenon where individuals share their spare resources via third-party online platforms to make money. The sharing economy will become a new driving force in economic growth.

驱动力

The sharing economy is taking off in China, where bicycles, phone chargers, umbrellas and even basketballs can all be rented by the hour. Telephone box-style karaoke booths outside malls and supermarkets in some of the biggest cities allow crooners to dart in for a swift lunchtime song or two, and even record it.

吟唱者
冲进去

Perhaps the best-known example of a company in this field is Airbnb—an American lodging web business which allows you to rent out your spare room to holidaymakers.

度假者

A British company is doing something with parking spaces. JustPark's founder, Anthony Eskinazi, says: "When I had the original idea, I spotted a driveway close to a sports stadium. It would have been so convenient if I could have just parked in that driveway rather than in a commercial car park."

In Japan, flea market applications like Mercari, are transforming from being just a way of disposing of unneeded items to becoming a new answer to share individual demand.
